

Are you SOMEONE WHO is interested in exploring an opportunity in Frozen Food Production as an Entry Level Supervisor. We have an opening and might be looking for someone just like you!

Let's check, do many of the following describe you? Are you:

- Someone who is wishing to work in a local frozen fruit production facility in Maple Ridge and skip the commute?
- Someone who likes and is attracted to supervising people?
- Someone who likes working in a clean and cool working environment patiently supervising workers who speak different languages and come from different cultures?
- Someone who speaks more than one language fluently: Punjabi or Spanish as well as English would be a great combo.
- Someone who needs a developmental opportunity that allows you to explore your Supervisory potential, for example do you naturally take to leadership roles? Did this happen while completing university or volunteering within the community?
- Someone who has completed a BA or Diploma Program?
- Someone who has a curiosity about food production or quality assurance or the food supply in general or local agriculture?
- Someone who can remain calm and patient during times of chaos? Fruit, like children, matures at unpredictable intervals.
- Someone who likes to solve problems and communicate?
- Someone who wants a career opportunity and not just a job?

Responsibilities of the Position:

- Directs employees in the operation of plant equipment to meet, regulatory, quality and efficiency standards
- Implements and follows all sanitation procedures
- Provides Supervision to the line
- Prepares daily reports
- Ensures machinery and equipment are safe and are safely operated
- Ensures employee safety and compliance to the Occupational Health & Safety Act
